6TH DISTRICT COMMUNITY PROSECUTION UPDATE

“Community Prosecution is a problem-solving approach to law enforcement; our Community Prosecution teams proactively listens to the concerns of the residents and work with the community to identify and solve problems that plague your neighborhoods,” stated United States Attorney Kenneth Wainstein, at the Sixth District Community Prosecution Office’s Community Forum on October 19, 2005. He was joined by the Honorable Judge Craig Iscoe, Community Prosecutor Leutrell Osborne, II and Sixth District Commander Robin Hoey, whom together provided an informative presentation addressing nuisance property abatement and the barring notice and stay-a-way processes; to an attentive audience of Sixth District residents, community leaders and government representatives. Community Outreach Specialist Brenda Horner facilitated this Forum. Feel free to contact the Sixth District Community Prosecution team at (202) 698-0825 if you have any questions and to sign up to receive the monthly court report.

THE COURT REPORT

Samuel Davis, 25, of the 100 block 35th Street, NE, Washington, D.C., was sentenced on October 13, 2005, to 21 years in prison by Superior Court Judge Hiram Puig-Lugo. On July 1, 2005, a jury convicted Davis of two counts of Assault with a Dangerous Weapon (gun), one count of Carrying a Pistol without a License, one count of Possession of an Unregistered Firearm, one count of Unlawful Possession of Ammunition, and one count of Possession of a Firearm during a Crime of Violence or Dangerous Offense. (Case No. F-5353-04; PSA 605)

The government's evidence presented at trial showed that around 3:30 a.m. on August 17, 2004, the complainant was called over to 190 36th Street, NE. The complainant and another individual then sat down on the steps and began to talk. As they were talking, the defendant, Samuel Davis, appeared and began to confront the complainant. Davis was angry with the complainant because he believed that the complainant had assaulted his cousin three weeks earlier. After confronting the complainant about the earlier assault, Davis produced a 9mm handgun and started shooting the complainant. The complainant began running, and Davis continued to fire at the complainant as he ran. A bystander, who was near Davis when he began shooting, also began running. As the bystander was running, a bullet grazed her leg.

Several citizens called 911. The complainant was taken to the hospital. He suffered one gunshot wound to the abdomen, two to the testicles, two to his left arm, two to his left thigh, and one to his right calf. He was admitted in critical condition, and underwent surgery for the injuries to his abdomen and testicles. The bystander was not seriously injured.

Two days later, Metropolitan Police Department officers were canvassing the neighborhood in response to a homicide, which occurred at a Citgo gas station at Minnesota Avenue and Blaine Street, NE. During the canvass, the officers recovered a 9mm pistol from inside the hallway of 186 36th Street, NE. Samuel Davis was sitting within seven feet of the pistol when it was recovered. A firearms examination revealed that the 9mm pistol recovered from the hallway of 186 36th Street was the same gun used to shoot the complainant on August 17, 2004. That gun was processed for fingerprints, and Samuel Davis' palm print was found on the left side of the magazine.

Calvin Missouri, 42, of the 700 block of 18th Street, NE, Washington, D.C., was sentenced by the Honorable Hiram Puig-Lugo of the Superior Court of the District of Columbia, on September 30, 2005 to 20 years of incarceration on the charge of aggravated assault while armed for his unprovoked, daylight attack on an ice-cream delivery man in February of 2004. The defendant pled guilty to the charge on July 26, 2005. (Case No. F-113204; PSA 604)

According to the government's evidence presented at trial, on February 17, 2004, at approximately 1:00 p.m., the Calvin Missouri approached the victim, a 30-year-old man who was delivering ice cream to a convenience store, located in the 1800 block of Benning Road, NE, Washington, D.C. The defendant, who was a complete stranger to the victim, displayed a knife and demanded the victim's cell phone, but gave him no chance to respond before he attacked. The victim avoided the defendant's repeated stabs only by grabbing the defendant's arm and attempting to stop or redirect the blows. After a one-on-one struggle, the victim was able to break free of the defendant and run away. The defendant chased the victim approximately 75 yards down an alley and around a corner into a parking lot area. After cornering the victim behind a shopping cart, the defendant attacked again and forced the victim to the ground and repeatedly stabbed at his chest with the knife. The victim deflected some of the blows with his arms, resulting in defensive wounds to the underside of the victim's forearms. However, the defendant succeeded in stabbing the victim in the chest and back four times. The defendant halted his attack only when a neutral, concerned citizen heard the victim screaming, and approached and intervened. After several other persons also approached and assisted, the defendant gave up his attack and left the scene. Before leaving, in full view of those who had come to assist the victim, the defendant sliced open the victim's pocket and grabbed the victim's cell phone. At the urging of bystanders on the scene, the defendant threw a cell phone back at the victim before fleeing.

Police collected extensive evidence of the defendant's guilt, which included a confession by the defendant to an independent witness, identifications of the defendant by two eyewitnesses who were present at the scene, blood stains on the coat worn by the defendant during the offense which DNA testing revealed to be that of the victim, and a statement which the defendant gave to the police in which he admitted that he was on the scene, but alleged that another person had actually performed the stabbing.

Recardo Newman, 24, of the 5300 block of Clay Terrace, NE, Washington, D.C., was found guilty of assault with intent to kill while armed, aggravated assault while armed and related offenses by a Superior Court jury on October 13, 2005, in connection with an unprovoked shooting that occurred on July 17, 2004, at 3765 1st Street, SE. The defendant will be sentenced by the Honorable Hiram Puig-Lugo on December 15, 2005. He faces up to 37 years in prison. (Case No. F-4694-04; PSA 602)

According to the government's evidence presented at trial, on July 17, 2004, at about 7:00 a.m., the complainant dropped his female friend off at work in a residential neighborhood in the 3700 block of First Street, SE. The friend worked at a nursing home in the neighborhood. She told the complainant to wait for her while she checked in with her job. As he waited, the complainant saw a white car park in front of his and saw a man he later recognized as Recardo Newman get out. The defendant and the complainant's friend had dated until April 2004, and had a child together. The defendant walked up to his ex-girlfriend's job and tried to talk with her, but she rebuffed him.

The defendant then walked back to the complainant's car. He leaned in the open passenger window and asked the complainant, "remember me . . . I'm Ricky?" As the complainant stared at the defendant, the defendant looked around, then pulled a silver revolver out of his pants. He then pointed the gun at the complainant, who was still sitting in the driver's seat, and repeatedly fired the weapon. The defendant stopped firing only when he ran out of ammunition. The complainant was hit several times in the face and upper body, but, amazingly, survived. He crawled out of his car as his friend rushed to his aid. When she asked what happened, the complainant told her that he was shot by her “baby’s father.” The complainant was rushed to MedStar, where he was treated. Among his permanent injuries are nerve damage in his jaw and restricted motion of his arms.

The police commenced a search for the defendant almost immediately. He was arrested in the 5300 block of Clay Terrace, NE, on July 23, 2004. The defendant was found in possession of a silver-plated revolver; ballistics comparisons between the gun and a bullet recovered from the shooting scene established that the gun found in the defendant’s possession was the gun used to shoot and seriously wound the complainant.

A Superior Court jury convicted Melvin T. Watts, 37, on October 14, 2005, of seven felony offenses in connection with his November 17, 2004, abduction of a 26-year-old woman and her two children, and his subsequent rape and beating of that woman in Fort Chaplin Park in Southeast Washington, D.C. The jury convicted Watts of carjacking, kidnapping, first and third degree sexual abuse, assault with intent to kill while armed, aggravated assault while armed, and threats. Judge Judith E. Retchin will sentence Watts, who faces life imprisonment without the possibility of release, on December 19, 2005. (Case No. F-7242-04; PSA 604)

The government’s evidence at trial showed that the victim was a single, working mother who departed her house every weekday at around 5:30 a.m. to drop off her children at a daycare before heading to work. On Wednesday, November 17, 2004, at around 5:30 a.m., the victim was in her car with her four and seven-year-old children, on Southern Avenue in Southeast Washington, D.C., when the defendant entered her vehicle and demanded that she drive him to a dead-end road in Capitol Heights, Maryland. At the dead-end, the defendant forced the car to a stop, held a knife to the woman’s throat, told her he would kill her, and ordered her to put her children in the trunk of the car. She refused, struggled with him, and managed to get the knife out of the car; meanwhile, her children were able to run out of the vehicle. (Fortunately, the children were found by a citizen who took them into his care and immediately contacted the police.) The defendant, however, held the woman in the car, took control of the wheel, and sped off, repeatedly yelling that he would kill her. The defendant then drove to the Ridge Road Recreation Center, where he stopped and forced the victim into the trunk of her car. The defendant then drove into Fort Chaplin Park, a wooded park in Southeast D.C., where he dragged the victim out of the trunk and raped her. After the sexual assault, the defendant took the tire iron from the victim’s car and struck her multiple times in the head, fracturing her skull. After the victim lost consciousness, the defendant drove off, leaving her for dead.

The victim survived. Amazingly, she managed to stagger out of Fort Chaplin Park, and collapsed on the steps to a residence on the 4400 Block of C Street, SE. Citizens in the area contacted 911. Fortunately, the victim has recovered physically from the attack.

District of Columbia Superior Court Judge Hiram E. Puig-Lugo sentenced Harold J. Walker, 20, of Capitol Heights, MD, for his role in a carjacking and attempted carjacking on September 27, 2004. Walker was sentenced under the Youth Rehabilitation Act to 60 months of incarceration for robbery, a concurrent 60 months for a possession of a firearm during a crime of violence charge, and a consecutive 18 months for an assault with a dangerous weapon offense. The court suspended 12 months of the latter 18-month sentence, giving the defendant a total of 66 months in prison. Walker pled guilty to the offenses in March of this year. (Case No. F-6234-04; PSA 602)

According to the government's evidence presented at trial and the defendant's plea, on September 27, 2004, at approximately 2:30 a.m., in the 5700 block of Eads Street, NE, a male driver and two female passengers were in a 1987 gray Subaru. The defendant and another subject pulled up in a gray Crown Victoria and displayed a gun. The driver of the Subaru saw the gun, placed his vehicle in reverse, and backed westbound on Eads Street, NE, to 56th Street, NE. As he was backing up, he heard gunfire from the Crown Victoria. The driver of the Subaru lost control, hit the curb, exited his vehicle, and ran southbound on 56th Street, NE, then through a creek. The defendant and the other subject exited the Crown Victoria – armed with a silver pistol and a black shotgun – and grabbed the keys out of the ignition of the Subaru. After recognizing one of the female passengers, the defendant and the other subject dropped the keys and left.

On the same date at approximately 3:00 a.m., another male driver was in a 1999 gray Dodge Stratus with a female passenger and had just backed into a driveway in front of 4449 B Street, SE, in order to make a U-turn. At that time, a gray vehicle occupied by the defendant and another individual approached, flashed its headlights, and blocked in the Stratus. The defendant and the other subject exited the gray vehicle – armed with a black shotgun and a silver pistol – told the driver of the Stratus to “give it up,” hit the driver in the face with the pistol, pulled him out of the car, searched his pockets but found no money, and ordered the female passenger out of the car. The defendant and the other subject drove away with both cars and headed toward Texas Avenue. The male complainant called 911, a lookout for the Stratus was broadcast, and Metropolitan Police Department officer Wade Zech soon spotted the Stratus and followed it into Prince George's County. The Stratus crashed into another vehicle, two subjects bailed out of the Stratus, and one of the subjects was stopped and identified as defendant Harold Walker. A short time later, the male complainant positively identified the defendant as one of the two carjackers.

D.C. Superior Court Judge Judith E. Retchin sentenced Winston G. Robinson, Jr., 27, a former resident of the 1300 block of 45th Place, SE, Washington, D.C., on October 27, 2005, to 50 years of incarceration. On January 12, 2005, a D.C. Superior Court jury found the defendant guilty of first-degree premeditated murder while armed and related firearms charges. (Case No. F-00656-02; PSA 603)

The government's evidence at trial demonstrated that on April 18, 2000, a masked gunman, who was a passenger in a small, dark, two-door car, exited that car in the 200 block of 37th Street, SE, and chased the victim, Kyle Knight, into a nearby apartment building. Mr. Knight was trapped in the apartment building, and was repeatedly shot by the masked gunman. The gunman returned to the passenger's side of the waiting, would-be getaway car, and sped off. The driver of this vehicle lost control and crashed into a tree in the nearby 900 block of Ridge Road, SE, trapping the defendant in the passenger's seat.

Although none of the eyewitnesses could identify the defendant as the masked gunman, they were able to identify articles of the defendant's clothing and details about the crashed vehicle as being consistent with clothing the gunman was wearing, and consistent with the getaway car. A handgun was also recovered from the crashed vehicle, and although it was not the handgun used in the murder, it did contain a rare type of ammunition, called "Black Talons." Rounds of this same type of ammunition were recovered from the scene of the murder, and from the victim's remains. During the course of the trial, the government introduced evidence that the defendant killed Kyle Knight because the defendant believed that one of Knight's relatives had previously tried to kill him. The driver of the getaway car was never identified.

On October 29, 2005, District of Columbia Superior Court jury found Antwain Sturgis, 21, of the 200 block of K Street, SW, Washington, D.C., guilty of First Degree Cruelty to Children, Second Degree Cruelty to Children, Carrying a Dangerous Weapon, and Possession of Unregistered Firearm for leaving a loaded sawed-off 12 gauge shotgun with a 14-year-old juvenile in an apartment with two other juveniles on July 22, 2004, which resulted in the 14-year-old shooting a 10-year-old in the back with the shotgun. The defendant is currently scheduled to be sentenced before the Honorable Lynn Leibovitz on December 16, 2005. The defendant faces more than 35 years of imprisonment. (Case No. F-6122-04; PSA 602)

According to the government's evidence presented at trial, on July 22, 2004, at a little before 1:29 a.m., the Antwain Sturgis entered an apartment located at 307 50th Street, NE, Washington, D.C., where he stayed sometimes with family members. Also present in the apartment were the defendant's grandmother, a 14-year-old male cousin, a 14-year-old female cousin, and a 10-year-old who was a foster child of the grandmother. The defendant went into the bedroom of the 14-year-old male and put a sawed-off 12-gauge shotgun, which was loaded on the bed. The defendant then went to the bathroom. The 14-year-old picked up the shotgun and, while playing with it, accidentally fired it. The shotgun recoiled, hitting the 14-year-old in the nose, breaking his nose. The shot fired through the bedroom wall and struck the 10-year-old in the back while he was sleeping on a couch. The 14-year-old girl was sitting next to the couch on a chair and was nearly struck. The defendant grabbed his shotgun and fled while 911 was being called. The 10-year-old was transported to Children's Hospital where he was treated for his injury and lived, but retains shotgun pellets in his back. The shotgun was never recovered, but Metropolitan Police Department crime scene search officers were able to recover shotgun pellets, wadding, and the sections of dry wall, which had been hit to prove that a shotgun was the weapon involved.

D.C. Superior Court Judge Robert I. Richter sentenced 30-year-old Travis M. Wicks, a former resident of the 1900 block of R Street, SE, to 200 months of incarceration. On August 17, 2005, a D.C. Superior Court jury found the defendant guilty of one count of voluntary manslaughter while armed. (Case No. F-4000-04; PSA 602)

The government's evidence at trial showed that the murder occurred on June 24, 2004, at approximately 3:30 a.m., at a Denny's restaurant located at 4445 Benning Road, NE. That morning, the defendant became involved in a verbal confrontation with the victim, 25-year-old Leon Johnson. According to witnesses, after the two men had exchanged words, and the victim had been shoved by the defendant's friend, the victim tried to leave the area to avoid further conflict. As the victim was preparing to leave, the defendant assaulted the victim and began to stab him.

The medical examiner identified 20 separate stabbing or cutting wounds on the victim's body, including the most serious injury, a stab wound to the victim's neck that severed his jugular vein. By contrast, the defendant had a black eye and a swollen lip. In convicting the defendant of voluntary manslaughter while armed, the jury rejected the defendant's claim that he was acting in self-defense.

In sentencing the defendant to a sentence near the top of the sentencing guideline range, Judge Richter noted the defendant had a history of violence, and had fabricated testimony at trial.

DISTRICT COURT CASES

Anthony M. Stewart, 34, of Suitland, Maryland, was sentenced on September 26, 2005, to 18 months in prison by United States District Judge Paul L. Friedman on Stewart's prior guilty plea to aiding and abetting an honest services wire fraud offense. The charge relates to Stewart providing fraudulent documents to his parole officer and others, which falsely represented his employment with the Department of Agriculture. Stewart's sister, Theresa Stewart Freeman, was employed with the United States Department of Agriculture at the time.

According to the government's evidence presented at the plea hearing and agreed to by Stewart, a part of Ms. Freeman's employment duties was to verify the employment of personnel at the Department of Agriculture in response to inquiries from outside the Department. At all relevant times, Stewart was not employed. He was, however, on parole for a conviction in Superior Court in Washington, D.C., and a condition of his parole was that he maintain employment. If he failed to do so, his parole potentially could be revoked and he could be incarcerated for not complying with his terms of parole.

In May of 2003, Stewart stopped reporting to his parole officer. The parole officer then contacted Ms. Freeman, as Stewart's purported supervisor, in an attempt to locate him. At that time, Ms. Freeman fraudulently represented to the parole officer that Stewart was on leave without pay from the Department.

This fraud scheme came to light on June 26, 2003, when Metropolitan Police Department detectives were trying to locate Stewart to arrest him on a warrant in an unrelated matter. In the process of trying to locate Stewart, the police determined that he had submitted pay stubs to his parole officer showing that he was working at the Department of Agriculture. When the police contacted the Department of Agriculture about these pay stubs, they found that the pay stubs were fraudulent.

Stewart's sister, Ms. Freeman, previously pled guilty to a honest services wire fraud charge in this matter and was sentenced by Judge Friedman to three years of probation, which included a requirement that she perform 100 hours of community service. Ms. Freeman resigned from her employment with the Department of Agriculture in January of 2004.

Wyatt Wood, 42, of the 1200 block of Florida Avenue, NW, Washington, D.C., was sentenced on October 17, 2005, in U.S. District Court by Chief Judge Thomas F. Hogan to a term of 188 months in prison following his earlier guilty plea to federal drug trafficking charges. On April 19, 2005, Wood pled guilty to Conspiracy to Distribute and Unlawful Possession with Intent to Distribute 50 grams or more of Methamphetamine, also known as "Ice," Conspiracy to Distribute and Unlawful Possession with Intent to Distribute Five Kilograms or More of Cocaine, and Conspiracy to Distribute and Unlawful Possession with Intent to Distribute a detectable amount of 3,4-Methylenedioxy Methamphetamine, also known as "Ecstasy."

The evidence proffered by the government at the sentencing hearing established that, between January 1999 and November 22, 2004 (the date of Wood's arrest), Woods utilized several sources to supply him with large quantities of Ice, cocaine, Ecstasy and other designer drugs. Additionally, Wood employed a number of individuals to distribute the designer drugs as well. Wood was held responsible for the distribution of 60 kilograms of Ice, 5.5 kilograms of cocaine, and 4 kilograms of Ecstasy. He additionally possessed with the intent to distribute large quantities of Ketamine, Marijuana, Clonazepam, d-Pseudoephedrine hydrochloride and Gamma Butyrolactone, (GBL) and Gamma Hydroxybutyrate (GHB).

Wood's sentencing represents the culmination of a four-year joint effort by a task force, which resulted in the successful prosecution of more than 30 defendants to whom Wood supplied designer drugs. Moreover, this task force had seized more than one million dollars in assets from Wood. The joint investigation, initially designated as "Operation Tina Town," was a joint DEA, MPD and Arlington County effort that became part of a larger national initiative lead by the DEA, and was referred to as "Operation Wildfire." Operation Wildfire was a nationally coordinated law enforcement initiative designed to (1) target all levels of the methamphetamine manufacturing and distribution chain in the United States and (2) continue the fight against the spread of methamphetamine. The unprecedented law enforcement effort involved over 200 U.S. cities and resulted in the arrest of 427 individuals.

Antonio C. Bras, 62, of Olney, Maryland, was sentenced on October 20, 2005, in U.S. District Court before the Honorable Colleen Kollar Kotelly to a 37-month term of imprisonment for conspiring to commit bribery and federal highway fraud in connection with Bras's role in distributing cash bribes to District of Columbia Department of Public Works officials in exchange for the DPW officials agreeing to accept inflated job tickets for asphalt materials that were never provided to the District. U.S. District Judge Kollar Kotelly also fined BRAS $7,500. Bras entered his guilty plea in 2003 following the government's presentation of evidence at trial before a federal jury. This investigation – started in 1997 and known as "Operation Hotmix" – resulted in the criminal conviction of three construction companies and twelve individuals including nine District of Columbia DPW employees.

Fort Myer Construction Corporation ("FMCC") was a Virginia corporation, which engaged in road construction projects in Washington and elsewhere. FMCC entered into contracts and subcontracts with other prime contractors with the District of Columbia Department of Public Works ("DPW") and others to repair and resurface roads. Pursuant to these contracts and subcontracts, FMCC agreed to charge DPW and others for labor and material actually used in the performance of its contracts. Antonio C. Bras was employed by defendant FMCC as an asphalt superintendent and was a management official of FMCC. FMCC's Asphalt Division was responsible for, among other things, oversight of FMCC's obligation to deliver the proper amounts of asphalt to its crews at DPW job sites. (FMCC entered a separate guilty plea in March 2003, before Judge Kotelly to conspiracy to bribe DPW officials. FMCC was fined $300,000, ordered to pay $300,000 in restitution, and entered into a separate $300,000 civil settlement.)

Wyatt Wood, 42, of the 1200 block of Florida Avenue, NW, Washington, D.C., was sentenced on October 17, 2005, in U.S. District Court by Chief Judge Thomas F. Hogan to a term of 188 months in prison following his earlier guilty plea to federal drug trafficking charges. On April 19, 2005, Wood pled guilty to Conspiracy to Distribute and Unlawful Possession with Intent to Distribute 50 grams or more of Methamphetamine, also known as "Ice," Conspiracy to Distribute and Unlawful Possession with Intent to Distribute Five Kilograms or More of Cocaine, and Conspiracy to Distribute and Unlawful Possession with Intent to Distribute a detectable amount of 3,4-Methylenedioxy Methamphetamine, also known as "Ecstasy."

The evidence proffered by the government at the sentencing hearing established that, between January 1999 and November 22, 2004 (the date of Wood's arrest), Woods utilized several sources to supply him with large quantities of Ice, cocaine, Ecstasy and other designer drugs. Additionally, Wood employed a number of individuals to distribute the designer drugs as well. Wood was held responsible for the distribution of 60 kilograms of Ice, 5.5 kilograms of cocaine, and 4 kilograms of Ecstasy. He additionally possessed with the intent to distribute large quantities of Ketamine, Marijuana, Clonazepam, d-Pseudoephedrine hydrochloride and Gamma Butyrolactone, (GBL) and Gamma Hydroxybutyrate (GHB).

David Johnson, 35, of the 4900 block of Fort Totten Drive, NE, a former employee of the D.C. Public School's Transportation Division, pled guilty on October 12, 2005, in U.S. District Court to operating a bribery scheme with a D.C. government clerk. In pleading guilty, Johnson acknowledged that he paid money to Tonette Cooks, a teller formerly employed by the D.C. Office of Finance and Treasury ("OFT") and working for the D.C. Bureau of Traffic Adjudication, in exchange for Cooks falsely recording that various automobile tickets and fines had been paid in full. Cooks, 30, formerly of the 4800 block of Fort Totten Drive, NE, pled guilty to bribery on October 21, 2003. Both Cooks and Johnson are now pending sentencing before United States District Judge Gladys Kessler.

As part of his plea, Johnson admitted that he operated as a "middleman," collecting numerous "customers" and their bribe money, and providing Cooks with the tickets or fines to be fixed and delivering to her a portion of the bribe money. A second "middleman" with whom Cooks worked, Sherry McKnight, 41, formerly of the 3000 block of Stanton Road, SE, pled guilty on October 17, 2003, to participating with Cooks in the bribery scheme. On April 28, 2004, McKnight was sentenced to 46 months of incarceration. Johnson admitted that his actions resulted in a loss amount of over $30,000.

Bruce A. Schiffer, 34, of Washington, D.C., pled guilty on October 14, 2005, in Federal District Court to one count each of using his computer to advertise, transport, receive and possess child pornography. The sentencing date will be February 9, 2006, before the Honorable Paul L. Friedman.

During the plea hearing, Schiffer admitted to charges contained in an indictment handed down on June 9, 2005. The indictment alleged that Schiffer advertised, transported, received and possessed the child pornography that forms the basis for the charges. By operating his personal computer as a file server, Schiffer allowed selected files to be downloaded and uploaded by the public from and to his computer respectively. He also advertised on specified Internet relay chat (IRC) channels a willingness to receive or distribute files. Schiffer advertised his file server on the "100%preteenboysexpics" IRC channel, making available to the public a collection of approximately 11,000 image and movie files of child pornography and erotic depictions of children over the course of about five months beginning on or about Sept. 1, 2004 and continuing until on or about Jan.14, 2005. Among the items seized from Schiffer's bedroom pursuant to a search warrant, were several computers; a large quantity of storage media, including videotapes, CDs, DVDs and floppy disks, a clown suit; and two boxes of catalogued correspondence between Schiffer and roughly 160 prison inmates, the vast majority of whom had either sexually assaulted or murdered children.
